

COOKIE POLICY

Effective Date: 04 June 2026

1. INTRODUCTION

This Cookie Policy explains how SpicyDate Ltd (“SpicyDate”, “we”, “our”, or “us”) uses cookies, tracking technologies, pixels, SDKs, and similar technologies when you access or use the Platform, website, mobile applications, services, advertisements, communications, or related offerings.

This Cookie Policy should be read together with our Privacy Policy and Terms of Use.

2. WHAT ARE COOKIES

Cookies are small text files or similar technologies stored on your device when you visit a website, use a mobile application, interact with advertisements, or access online services.

Cookies may collect information relating to:

- Device information;
- Browser information;
- IP address;
- Session information;
- User preferences;
- Login information;
- Usage activity;
- Advertising interactions;
- Analytics data; and
- Other technical information.

3. TYPES OF COOKIES WE USE

Essential Cookies

These cookies are necessary for Platform functionality and security.

Examples include:

- Authentication;
- Account login;
- Security monitoring;
- Fraud prevention;
- Session management;
- Network management;
- Platform functionality.

Essential cookies cannot generally be disabled without affecting Platform functionality.

Analytics Cookies

Analytics technologies help us understand how users interact with the Platform.

Examples include:

- Page views;
- User activity;
- Feature usage;
- Navigation patterns;
- Performance metrics;
- Error tracking;
- Traffic analysis.

Functional Cookies

Functional cookies help remember user preferences and improve user experience.

Examples include:

- Language preferences;
- Region settings;
- User settings;
- Display preferences;
- Saved preferences.

Advertising and Marketing Cookies

Advertising technologies may be used to:

- Deliver advertisements;
- Measure advertising performance;
- Evaluate campaign effectiveness;
- Build marketing audiences;

- Prevent advertising fraud.

4. THIRD-PARTY TECHNOLOGIES

SpicyDate may use third-party technologies, including:

- Analytics providers;
- Advertising partners;
- Social media platforms;
- Marketing providers;
- Communication providers;
- Payment providers;
- Cloud service providers;
- Security providers.

These third parties may place cookies or use similar technologies subject to their own privacy policies and practices.

SpicyDate may use first-party cookies, third-party cookies, session cookies, persistent cookies, pixels, tags, SDKs, local storage technologies, and similar tracking technologies.

5. COOKIES WE MAY USE

Depending on Platform functionality, SpicyDate may use technologies provided by:

- Google Analytics;
- Google Ads;
- Meta (Facebook);
- Instagram;
- LinkedIn;
- HubSpot;
- AWS services;
- Stripe;
- Other analytics, advertising, communication, security, or technology providers.

The specific providers used may change over time.

6. MANAGING COOKIES

Users may control cookies through:

- Browser settings;
- Device settings;
- Cookie consent tools where available;
- Third-party opt-out mechanisms.

Disabling cookies may affect Platform functionality, availability, security, performance, or user experience.

Where required by applicable law, users may be given the ability to accept, reject, customize, or withdraw consent for certain categories of cookies and tracking technologies.

7. DO NOT TRACK

The Platform may not respond to all “Do Not Track” browser signals because no uniform industry standard currently exists.

8. CHANGES TO THIS COOKIE POLICY

SpicyDate may modify, update, revise, or replace this Cookie Policy at any time.

Updated versions become effective upon posting unless otherwise specified.

Continued use of the Platform after changes become effective constitutes acceptance of the updated Cookie Policy where permitted by applicable law.

9. CONSENT

Where required by applicable law, SpicyDate will obtain consent before placing non-essential cookies or using similar tracking technologies.

Users may withdraw consent at any time through available cookie management tools, browser settings, or other mechanisms made available by SpicyDate where applicable.
